Operations. The 543d group provided photographic intelligence that assisted the campaigns for Tunisia, Pantelleria, Sardinia, and Sicily. It reconnoitered airdromes, roads, marshalling yards, and harbors both before and after the Allied landings at Salerno. Early in 1944, the group provided coverage of the Anzio area and helped support Fifth Army in its drive through Italy by determining troop movements, gun positions, and terrain. The group flew reconnaissance missions in connection with the invasion of Southern France in Aug 1944 and received a DUC for a mission on 28 Aug 1944, when it provided photographic intelligence that assisted the rapid advance of Allied ground forces.
